TED is a global community focused on meaningful change through the power of ideas. It started out in 1984 as a conference bringing together people from three worlds: Technology, Entertainment, and Design. Since then, its scope has become even broader, from science to business to global issues — in more than 100 languages, online and in the real world. Today, many of the world's leading thinkers and doers share their ideas at TED or on TED.com.

M S N Karthik

Filmmaker | Entrepreneur | Musician

MSN Karthik is an alumni of IIT Guwahati, where he'd majored in HCI, Usability and UX Design. After his graduation, he went on to work with MNCs and multiple startups, his latest being MindTickle, where he was the Product Manager and Design Lead. Before that, Karthik had also launched a showcase and collaboration platform for Filmmakers called Filmtwine.

For many, films are a hobby. For some, they are a passion. But Karthik is a sort of a person, who always lived his life in 24 frames. Films were what shaped him since childhood. He says that he watched Rob Williams in awe, as he stood up on his desk to inspire his students to seize the day, in Dead Poets Society. Film seemed a powerful medium to communicate ideas and he soon realized that storytelling was what defined him. So, he started travelling across India in search of untold stories. From Bodh Gaya in the East to Rajasthan in the West and Himalayas in the North to Munnar in the South, he covered a lot of places and launched his first travel film series #MyGreatEscape. Such a vast country seemed very small in front of his quest to tell an engaging story. Today, he has established a production house called Adwhyta in Hyderabad, which operates in the genres of travel, adventure, drama and documentary and aims to explore different ethnographies by understanding life in its purest sense.

Karthik's latest sci-fi thriller short film The Countdown had been covered in major national newspapers and has received accolades from many in the film fraternity. He's well known for his DIY approach to filmmaking which made it possible to complete his film in under a frugal budget of Rs.5500. Apart from films, Karthik is also a classically trained Carnatic Vocalist, and a student of Shri DV Mohana Krishna
